

The most beloved and widely read Pulitzer Prize Winner now comes vividly alive on the screen!

with MARY BADHAM - PHILLIP ALFORD - JOHN MEGNA - RUTH WHITE - PAUL FIX
BROCK PETERS - FRANK OVERTON - ROSEMARY MURPHY - COLLIN WILCOX

Directed by ROBERT MULLIGAN. Produced by SEAN PAVILLA. A Paramount Pictures Presentation. © 1962 PARAMOUNT PICTURES

FUN FACTS:

1. For his first film role, Robert Duvall stayed out of the sun for six weeks and dyed his hair blond for the role of Boo Radley.
2. Phillip Alford who played the role of Jem, did not initially want to audition for the part. However, when his mother informed him that he would miss a half day of school, he immediately decided to go after all.
3. According to the comics, this is Clark Kent's (aka Superman) favorite movie.
4. Gregory Peck's 9 minute summation speech was done in one take.
5. Despite the novel winning the Pulitzer Prize, the studios were not interested in buying up the film rights as they deemed it lacking in action, there was no love story and the villain doesn't get a big comeuppance.
6. Although Gregory Peck's inspirational performance as Atticus Finch turned out to be a perfect highlight to his long career, Rock Hudson was actually the studio's first choice for the role. James Stewart was also offered the part.
7. It won three Academy Awards: Best Actor in a Leading Role, Best Art Direction-Set Direction Black-and -White and Best Writing, Screenplay Based on Material from Another Medium.

Atticus Finch, a lawyer in the Depression-era South, defends a black man against an undeserved rape charge, and his kids against prejudice.
