Cineplex Entertainment's 2010-2011 Season of the National Theatre Live: Complicite's A DISAPPEARING NUMBER to be broadcast from Theatre Royal, Plymouth on Thursday, October 14th

WHAT: Toronto, ON (CGX.UN): Cineplex Entertainment is pleased to announce that the next production of the National Theatre Live's 2010-2011 season series will be Complicite's A Disappearing Number. This is the the National Theatre Live's first venture outside London, originating from the internationally acclaimed theatre company Complicite and will be broadcast live (time-shifted) from Theatre Royal, Plymouth, England to select Cineplex Entertainment theatres across Canada on Thursday, October 14, 2010 at 7:00 pm EST, CST, PST and at 8:00 pm MST (time-shifted).

Conceived and directed by Simon McBurney, A Disappearing Number won the Laurence Olivier, Evening Standard and Critics' Circle Awards for Best New Play. It weaves together the story of two love affairs, separated by a century and a continent. The first happens now. The second is set in 1914. It tells of the heartbreaking collaboration between the greatest natural mathematician of the 20th century, Srinivasa Ramanujan, a penniless Brahmin from Madras in South India, and his British counterpart, the brilliant Cambridge don GH Hardy.

WHEN: Thursday, October 14, 2010 at 7:00 pm EST, CST, PST and at 8:00 pm MST (time-shifted).

WHERE: Tickets for the 2010-2011 performances are on sale now at participating theatre box offices and online at www.cineplex.com/events. Tickets can be purchased individually or in a series.

The 2010-2011 schedule also includes the following performances which will be shown live from the National Theatre (time-shifted) at 7 pm EST, CST, PST and at 8pm MST at select Cineplex Entertainment theatres:
